

The Real Estate

Vol. 25 No. 2

July 2005

by Bob Jones, Commission Chair

The past year has seen the Commission inundated with new licensees and the real estate industry has been swamped, while both face multiple industry changes.

As a result of the dramatic increase in our licensee numbers and the efficiency of our staff, the Commission is experiencing the highest free fund (cash) balance in the history of the Commission. Now, please realize that none of this money can be spent without legislative spending authority, and the state general fund is happy to collect the interest from our special real estate fund.

This increased cash balance is the result of a combination of factors, with the obvious one being the increased number of licensees. However, the un-sung heroes in this story are the dedicated staff, who run the Commission like a well-oiled machine operating with 23% less staff than five years ago while at the same time processing the largest number of licensees in Commission history. As a result of this effort, we are able to absorb all of the on-line convenience fees while still reducing licensing fees by $20 per license period. At this time we are planning to further reduce the cost of your license in the near future.

Comments from the Chair

If you renew your license on line, you are automatically entered into our monthly license lottery drawing. If you also print your license on line your name is entered a second time in this drawing. What do you have to lose? You just may be the lucky one and if your name is drawn, you will receive a check from the Commission in the amount of your license fee!

Talk about recent education changes, there have been many over the past couple of years such as:

- The flexibility of choice in expanded CE elective courses
- (3) hours CE credit for attending a Commission meeting
- 'Self certification' of completion of your CE requirements for renewal

The Commission and Education Council are working in conjunction with the Idaho Association of Realtors to totally revise our education offerings. We are excited at the possibilities of this effort and are looking forward to more and more future changes. Let us know if you have any suggestions in this area.

The Commission has been recognized by the State of Idaho and internationally by the ARELLO organization for our quality web site. Recently the Commission received the Idaho State Information Technology Achievement Award for Securing Digital Government in protecting our licensees' personal information.

We are currently looking to the future and exploring the possibility of single licensure and changes to the way we practice agency, hopefully making it more user friendly for the licensee and the consumer. And finally, with 2004 legislative changes, all fine monies and civil penalties monies will now be dedicated to licensee education. We hope to get the spending authority from the Idaho Legislature in the upcoming 2006 session.

We would like to hear from you how you would like to see these funds put to the highest and best use. If you have ideas on specific courses you feel would benefit our industry, please take the time to contact us. You can go to our www.irec.idaho.gov and send an email to any staff member, or you can contact your district Commissioner with these ideas.

THE IDAHO REAL ESTATE COMMISSION 2005 LEGISLATION

by Donna Jones, Executive Director

The Commission's legislative package will come to life on July 1, 2005, when the new laws take effect. Below you will find a short summary of the law changes that affect the real estate industry. I encourage you to review these new laws in entirety when you receive your personal copy of the 2005 edition of the Real Estate Commission License Law & Rules book. All licensees are sent a copy of this book, and it will arrive in your office before July 1, 2005. It is easy to find the actual law changes as we use a 'strike & insert' format for your convenience.

The law changes are also available for your review at our web site, www.irec.idaho.gov

SENATE BILL 1008-BCOO, DESIGNATED BROKERS/BRANCH MANAGERS

All licensees who apply to be licensed as a brokerage's Designated Broker, or to manage a licensed branch office, must have taken, within the last five years, a Commission approved Business Conduct and Office Operations (BCOO) course. Current Designated Brokers do not have to take the BCOO unless they change to another office.

Out of state brokers are no longer exempt from the requirement to take the BCOO course. Through its auditing processes, the Commission has identified these out-of-state brokers as having significant problems with file management and recordkeeping.

All branch office managers must now be licensed at the broker level, rather than having a salesperson's license plus two years experience. Those sales people who currently manage a branch office will have a one-year period in which to obtain their broker's license.

SB1009-ERRORS&OMISSIONS INSURANCE CAP INCREASE

This new law increases the maximum premium cap that the Commission can contract for a group errors & insurance policy, from $140 per licensee per year, to $200.

The current contract is $135 per licensee. This contract comes up for renewal in October 2005. Unless IREC obtains a contract within the statutory limit, the requirement that licensees carry errors and omissions insurance would be voided.

The Commission has just received notification that the current contract renewal will be raised to $148, so when you receive your E & O premium notification in August, you will be billed that amount.

SB 1010- COMMISSION HOUSEKEEPING BILL.

Our "Annual Housekeeping Bill" which corrects inconsistencies in existing statute, moves administrative rules into the statute; and updates provisions to conform to current technology, business practices, and recent changes in state law.

Instructor Certification- The Commission will only certify instructors for 'prelicense' and the 'Commission Core Course. IREC approval is no longer required for instructors teaching 'Continuing Education Elective Courses.' The instructors will be certified by the course providers.

Open Access-Brokerages and professional associations now have the ability to offer their certified course offerings to members and affiliates, so long as certification requirements are met. CE credit will be granted unless such course has received financial support from the Commission for that course offering.

OTHER MINOR CHANGES:

- All licensees are required to notify the Commission within 10 business days of any change in mailing address.
- Background checks (fingerprints) must be processed BEFORE Commission accepts application for licensure.
- Current license certificates for branch offices, the branch manager, and each sales associate conducting business from the branch office shall be prominently displayed or available for public inspection at the branch office.

CONTINUING EDUCATION CHANGES & CLARIFICATIONS:

- A licensee shall not submit a renewal application on active status before first having obtained the CE credit hours required by the Commission.

- A licensee who violates this shall be subject to disciplinary action by the Commission.
- Commission may request satisfactory proof of CE compliance from any licensee who has certified that he has completed the requirement.
- This request shall state the time proof must be received at the Commission office, which shall not be less than ten (10) business days.
- This proof must be ‘satisfactory proof’ which shall consist of the following documentation:
Identify the licensee, title of course or challenge exam, course certification number, course provider, number of classroom hours, the completion date of the course or exam to include:
  - Transcript course
  - Letter from provider verifying successful completion or course completion certificate
  - Identifying course certification approval number to establish the course is approved for CE credit

The Commission may, in its sole discretion, accept alternative documentation.

Failure to submit satisfactory proof to completion of the CE requirements may subject licensee to have his license inactivated by the Commission. He shall not be entitled to reactivate the license unless and until he provides the Commission satisfactory proof of meeting CE requirement.

Licensee has a duty to keep satisfactory proof of successful completion of the CE requirement and shall submit such at the request of the Commission.

Trust Funds & Entrusted Money- Eliminates the requirement that entrusted funds be deposited in Idaho. The broker remains responsible for the entrusted monies and is subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission.

Termination- A sales associate who terminates his license with his broker shall provide the broker written notice of the termination no later than three (3) business days after the effective date. A broker who terminates a sales associate shall provide written notice of the termination to the associate no later than three (3) business days after the effective date.

A licensee’s written notice to the Commission does not relieve him of the duty to provide written notice to the broker that he is terminating the relationship.

Termination For Cause-The broker shall notify the Commission in writing within ten (10) business days of the termination.

Additional Grounds For Disciplinary Action- A licensee who has had a real estate or other professional license suspended or revoked for a disciplinary violation involving fraud, misrepresentation, or dishonest or dishonorable dealings.

Frequently Asked Questions

Question: Since I am an Agent, can I sign documents for my client?

Answer: NO! Unless you have a signed Power of Attorney, or some other legal authority, you cannot sign documents on someone else's behalf. Agency establishes duties that you owe your client, but does not grant the authority to sign documents for the client.

Question: Can I just collect the earnst money after an offer is accepted, and not deal with the money on my unaccepted offers?

Answer: Whatever the Purchase and Sales Agreement and Receipt for Earnest Money document says, is what you are representing to the seller, and seller's agent. The most common document says "... Buyer hereby deposits..." which indicates that you have collected something. The document goes on to define what you have collected, and what value it has. If you are going to do anything different, put it in writing on the contract, and advise the seller and their agent. Also remember that you are required to surrender all consideration to your designated broker immediately.

Question: Am I required by law to return telephone calls to customers and clients?

Answer: No, there is no law stating that you have to return calls, but you should know this is the most common problem consumers call the Commission with. It is also interesting to note that the second most common question we receive is how to cancel a representation agreement. In many cases, the two are related.

Make sure your Continuing Education is Commission approved!

by Karen Seay, Education Director

Until now, all instructors offering approved real estate courses were certified by the Commission in order for continuing education credit to count. Instructors for all pre-license and the Commission Core Course will continue to be certified by the Commission. However, effective July 1, 2005, ensuring instructor qualifications for continuing education elective courses will be the responsibility of the provider, not the Commission. This change reflects the legislative policy, which was enacted two years ago, shifting the delivery of Continuing Education Elective courses (as opposed to the Pre-license or Commission Core Course) to the private sector, giving the providers of those courses the responsibility to decide instructor qualifications.

Certification for all providers and courses for real estate education in Idaho continues to be required by the Commission. It is always in the student's best interest to make sure that the continuing education course s/he is taking is indeed certified for credit by the Commission. Visit IREC's website at www.irec.idaho.gov and click on the course schedule link for a listing of approved courses.

IREC's Education Department continually strives to meet the educational needs of real estate agents throughout Idaho. Contact Karen Seay at karen.seay@irec.idaho.gov if you would like to see a course offered that is not currently approved, and she will work with the provider and/or instructor through the process. 🏠

by Neal Bernklau, Licensing Supervisor

New Laws

There are only a few new laws this year that affect the licensing department. There are three (3) specific laws that have a major impact on you and the licensing department.

The first major law change is that all branch managers for licensed branch offices must be an associate broker. Those managers that are not associate brokers will have until July 1, 2006, to obtain their broker's license. If they have not obtained their broker's license by July 1, 2006, the branch office will be closed and all associates with that branch office will be placed inactive.

The second major law change is that any designated or limited broker opening their own office, any new broker to include out-of-state, and any company changing brokers will have to certify that they have taken the Business Conduct and Office Operations (BCOO) course within 5-years of applying as a designated or limited broker.

NOTE: If you are a Designated Broker and you let your license expire, you will be required to certify that you have completed the BCOO course within the past 5-years.

The third major law change is that any new branch manager after July 1, 2005 must be an associate broker and must certify that they have taken the BCOO course within 5-years of applying as a branch manager.

LETTER FROM OUR OWN SCOTT SYME

Scott Syme, an Idaho licensee and real estate instructor recently sent an email to the Commission. We are so proud of him and all of the young men and women who are defending our great country and we are sharing his email with you. Please note that while he is on duty his heart is still in Idaho. If you want to contact him to let him know how we appreciate his service, his email address is scott.syme@iraq.centcom.mil

How are things in Weiser? My mom and dad always go to the McDonalds for coffee and to read a free paper in the mornings.

I am going to meet, hopefully, with the CEO of the Iraqi American Chamber of Commerce to discuss developing a professional real estate organization to Iraq. It would entail new laws concerning real property rights, laws setting up how real estate transactions would be conducted, how the professional organization would be established, what powers they would have, and who would be authorized to receive a fee for selling/leasing real estate. I know they have real estate agents operating in Iraq now but don't think they operate under any overarching guidance or ethics. Ethics would be a big thing here considering all the corruption that goes on. If an ethical organization of real estate professionals could be created, I think they would be very successful and provide a much needed service. If everything goes well, and I know that is still iffy, real property sales and leasing could be very active over the course of the next 5-10 years. I want to help lay the groundwork to establish the professional organization to service this demand.

I think I only have about 2 months left here but would like to do as much as I can before I leave. Anything you can email or tell me how to access via the web would be most appreciated and the easiest to access.

*Thanks,
Scott A. Syme*

The Idaho Real Estate Commission Wins Award

The Idaho Real Estate Commission is proud to announce that they were awarded the 2005 IT Achievement Award for Securing Digital Government by the State of Idaho's Information Technology Resource Management Council. The award was accepted for IREC by our webmaster, Joanna Marshall, on May 17, 2005 at the 2005 Digital Government Boot Camp for Idaho Policy Makers.

IREC was honored for their new procedures for secure access to real estate licensing data via the website. The new security features require the licensee to use an Access Idaho login and password of their choice and then they must associate their personal licensing information to that user name and password. The "association key" is preset by IREC using the licensee's birth date and social security number. With these new procedures, the licensee can then change that association key so that anyone who might know their standard preset key will no longer be able to access their data without the licensee's knowledge and permission.

Joanna Marshall, Webmaster

ally delivering the renewal to the Commission Office so that it is received no later than 5:00 p.m. Mountain Time on the last working day of the renewal month.

Another benefit to the licensee is that the online renewal program gives them immediate feedback should their real estate license not be eligible for renewal due to lack of proper Errors & Omissions insurance coverage or lack of the required continuing education credits. The online renewal application checks the licensee's license type and if they are the "designated broker" for a company, the system triggers the renewal of all of the broker's companies and collects any additional fees for the renewal of those companies.

Also the public can use IREC's Internet application to check the licensing status of a person who is offering them real estate services.

Licensees benefit from using IREC's Internet licensing applications by having the convenience of renewing their licenses 24 hours a day, 7 days a week from the comfort of their home or office. They no longer will have to worry about sending their renewal via snail mail, using an expensive "express" mail service, or person-

IREC is excited about the opportunity for improvement of the service to both the public and the real estate licensees now and in the future and view this as a solid beginning to a bright new future. 🏠

REAL ESTATE BUSINESS IS CHANGING AND REAL ESTATE EDUCATION IN IDAHO IS GOING TO LEAD THE CHANGES

by Gail Heist, Education Council Chair

The real estate industry is going through a lot of major changes. Agents are changing from independent contractors to employee status. Brokerage firms are adopting new business models. Real estate agents and brokers alike need to be ready to deal with change. I personally find change exciting and find that change provides for a really bright future. If you embrace change rather than fight the change you will find that your future and success in real estate will be very satisfying. It is interesting to see how some people react differently to change. How are you reacting to the changes in real estate?

Today, the pace of the real estate business is faster than ever, the expertise required is much higher, and the technology is more complex, all of which requires a real estate agent to be better educated to survive and serve the consuming public. What students study to get licensed or what courses agents take to renew their license today will require changes in real estate education.

The changes will require that the Real Estate Education Council with the help of Idaho Association of REALTORS® and real estate licensees evaluate current real estate education. The Real Estate Commission will then implement the necessary changes in real estate education at all levels of real estate licensing. To accomplish this task, a joint IREC and IAR Education Task Force has been formed. This task force will start with the basics by evaluating what real estate agents and brokers need to know to better serve and protect the consuming public. Once the basic requirements have been determined, the required education to provide for these basics will be established.

Whether this will require more hours of education at the pre-license stage or more hours after licensing at a post-license stage will be determined after the appropriate information has been compiled and evaluated. Information will be gathered from licensees and brokers with a questionnaire as well as facts provided from a task analysis done by a major testing agency.

Once pre-license and/or post-license requirements have been determined, the task force will then evaluate the requirements for Broker Licensing. If you have any input, contact an Education Council member or any task force member. "Real estate education is much more than a license requirement -- It is a necessity for business success and consumer protection (author unknown)."

Understand that Idaho real estate education will always have changes. Let's all look forward to the future changes and strive for the best-educated licensees in the United States. 🇺🇸
